NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena. DIVIDING WORK THAT'S HEAVY.

Present Administration Has Enough to Do.

Public Reception Planned for
New Principal.

Fire Chiefs Expected to Be the City's Guests.

(From the Times, 11 P. M. Oct. 11.)
PASADENA, Sept. 11.—It has been definitely determined by the present city administration that while a special bond election will be called next March to vote on the proposed purchase by the city of the property that constitutes the Pasadena playground, no attempt will be made to bring to a conclusion the task of procuring the Arroyo Seco and transforming it into a municipal park. This will be left for the first city commission to handle, the members of which will assume office next May.

"To bring the Arroyo Seco project to a consummation will be a long hard task," said Mayor Thum last night, "and it will have to be left for the commissioners to complete. Much preliminary work has already been done. We have been working hard and have accomplished a great deal. Of course nothing has been done yet regarding plans for the park. The thing that is of importance now is the getting of the property. It is the intention to call the playground bond election next March, as we have practically promised the owners of the property that it shall take place if they will continue to hold the property in one piece until that time."

TO HOLD RECEPTION.
So that those who wish may have an opportunity to meet Jerome O. Cram, the new superintendent of the Pasadena High School, the Board of Education is arranging a public reception, which will be held soon. The exact date is still uncertain, and the place has not yet been determined.

An especial reason for holding the reception at this time is that the teachers and pupils of the High School and the public will have a chance to discuss with Superintendent Cram arrangements that have been made for the fall term of school, which will open on the 23rd inst.

HERE AT LAST.
The long-delayed paraphernalia for the taking of finger prints of City Jail prisoners charged with felonies arrived in the city yesterday, and Chief of Police Wood announced last night that the system will be worked out as soon as possible.

The records will be kept in the small room adjoining the private office of Chief Wood, which was vacated last spring by the Humane Society. The material for the making of the finger prints has been a long time coming. It was ordered July 15.

NEW JOB OUTLINED.
The next place of street improvement work that will be undertaken by City Engineer Van Ornum will be the grading, curbing, guttering and oiling of Hill avenue, between Colorado and Washington streets, a distance of 1100 feet. The preliminary arrangements have been made, and bids for the work will be received by the City Council when it convenes next Tuesday.

CHIEFS DUE TODAY.
Arrangements have been made for the entertainment of between seventy-five and 100 fire chiefs today. F. P. Lukens of the Board of Trade, and Chief Clifford of the Pasadena fire department, have arranged to meet the visitors with automobiles when they arrive in the city this afternoon, and take them for a ride about town and to the Busch gardens. Afterward they will be taken to the Hotel Maryland, where a banquet will be given in their honor.

The visitors will be welcomed by Mayor Thum and other addresses will probably be made.

The Committee on Arrangements yesterday issued a notice requesting all who have offered the use of their automobiles to have the cars at the corner of Columbia street and Fair Oaks avenue at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The committee is in need of more machines than have yet been offered.

MAKES PLEASING FORECAST.

Pasadena. DIRECT STEAMER LINE STIRS UP HONOLULU.

SAN PEDRO, Sept. 11.—One of the chief topics of commercial development in the Hawaiian Islands is a direct steamship line between Los Angeles and Honolulu, according to Judge W. J. Robinson of the First Judicial Circuit Court of Hawaii.

Everybody in Honolulu is talking about the proposed steamship line, said he, and I came to San Pedro for the first time today to see the harbor. Although I lived in San Diego thirty years ago and have also lived in San Francisco this is my first visit to Los Angeles and San Pedro. When I was in San Diego there were only 1000 persons in the whole county, which was larger than the State of Ohio.

"The only overland communication with Los Angeles in those days was by stage, but the Pacific Coast Steamship Company had three steamships, the Orizaba, Ancon and Mohono on the run. The nearest I ever was to San Pedro before," said he, "and I came to San Pedro for the first time today to see the harbor. Although I lived in San Diego thirty years ago and have also lived in San Francisco this is my first visit to Los Angeles and San Pedro. When I was in San Diego there were only 1000 persons in the whole county, which was larger than the State of Ohio."

visited New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh, Chicago and other points and predicts that the coming tourist season in Pasadena will be an active one.

"I found Southern California much talked of everywhere," he said last night, "and much comment was directed toward the good roads here. Indications are for a good season, but Pasadena to hold her prestige must go in more for music and entertainment."

FOR THE CHILDREN.
Plans are being made for the celebration of the third anniversary of the establishment of Carmelita Play-ground at the playground on the 21st inst. The affair will take the form of a miniature Tournament of Roses and the parade will consist of tiny floats, made by the children, but decked out with the fairest flowers that the city can provide. Prizes will be awarded for the most artistically decorated floats and there will be a program of sports in which the children will contend for athletic honors on field and track. An unusual feature of the entertainment will be a doll party, to which girls between the ages of 6 and 10 years will be invited.

CITY BRIEFS.
Martin A. Nelson, a chauffeur, was arrested yesterday by Police Detective Betts and locked up in the City Jail. He is wanted by the Santa Monica police on a charge of petty larceny.

As one of the workmen put too much oil on the ground, the proposed first practice match of the year of the Pasadena Polo Club was not played yesterday. The first game will probably be played next Saturday.

City Plumbing Inspector A. C. Shaver yesterday was notified that he has been appointed a member of the Committee on Improvements in the Sanitary Appliances of the American Society of Plumbing Inspectors and Sanitary Engineers.

Dr. W. A. Cundy, vice-president of the Pasadena Humane Society, yesterday returned home from the annual meeting of the State Humane Association at Santa Barbara.

Albert Garrett, a 15-year-old boy, while playing with the pet bear cub of Robert Pierce, one of which terrorized church-goers when it escaped from its cage at the zoo, where several weeks ago, was bitten on the hand yesterday. His injury is not serious. The bears are just cutting their teeth.

I. N. Smith, secretary to Mayor Thum, and Mrs. Smith and their son, Milton, returned home yesterday from La Jolla, where they spent a week.

The City Council is confronted with the problem of how to silence the rock crushers in the Arroyo Seco, which disturb the peace of residents of the fashionable part of the city.

The party made up of A. C. Shaver, Frank Brenner, John Beyer, Walter R. Simons, Herbert Shaver, J. W. Brower and others, who last year went on a vacation cruise to the Santa Barbara Islands, have dubbed themselves the Order of the Pelican and plans soon to set out for another trip.

The first concert of the season of the Mendelssohn Club will take place October 12 at the North Congregational Church.

COVINA'S PARTY DRESS.

Expects to Entertain G.A.R. Veterans Today With Ride Through the Orange Belt.

Valley is in readiness for the visit of the members of the G.A.R. and their families, who will arrive here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock on special cars. Covina citizens and ranchers and business men. It is expected that 200 will be here. Although fifty machines have been provided, the committee is urging everyone who can to bring a car for the trip through the orange groves to the member of the visiting party may be disappointed.

The visitors will witness the picking, packing and shipping of oranges. Two large orange packing-houses will be there open to the inspection, after which they will be taken to San Dimas to see the largest orange packing establishment in the world.

On returning to Covina they will be met by the Covina Military band and will be taken to Odd Fellows Hall, where a committee of fifty church women have prepared an old-fashioned Grand Army lunch.

HUNTERS TO START TODAY.
Harry Burt and Earl Black are to leave this morning for four days of dove shooting in the vicinity of Murietta Springs. The two sportsmen will motor out in one of Burt's cars. It is said that there are many doves around the springs, and Burt and Black belong to the "show me club."

San Pedro.
"Honolulu is taking much interest in the development of shipping. At Pearl Harbor, ten miles from Honolulu, the government is building a great dock 1000 feet long for government vessels and merchant marine as well. This will be completed in May. The pay roll on this dock alone will reach $1,500,000 to $1,800,000 per year. When the Panama Canal is opened Honolulu will be a thorough port for practically all trans-Pacific steamers, being the only port of call in 8000 miles of water."

Judge Robinson is the oldest judicial appointee in Hawaii. He was appointed in 1902 by President Roosevelt and grants about 100 divorces a month, mostly to paupers.

One of the objects of the visit of Judge Robinson was to pay his respects to members of the local Blue Lodge, which presented a loving cup to the Honolulu lodge at the time of the Honolulu yacht race. This cup was carried by the Pacific Hawaiian appreciation of the courtesies extended Capt. "Bill" Steward and his crew the Honolulu lodge adopted appropriate resolutions. These were beautifully engraved by Judge Robinson and framed in Hawaiian Koa.

Long Beach. EXPERT'S REPORT UNSATISFACTORY

Auditor Would Require All Accounts Investigated.

Fire Chiefs Visit Harbors
With City Officials.

Government Representative
Inspects Submarine.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 11.—In the latter part of April, City Auditor Shuman, intimating that books and accounts of the city were rather mixed up, asked the Council to have an expert to look into the city accounts for a year or two, as they have had no checking in that time save by the Auditor.

Mayor Hatch offered to aid the Auditor in an experting, but through force of public opinion over his offer to expert his own work as Auditor withdrew it, and the Council appointed C. W. Hodgkinson to expert the books at a compensation of 50 cents an hour. He began work on May 14 and last night he submitted his report to the Council and also a bill for $292.75. The bill was referred to the Finance Committee, and will be asked by interested citizens to check up the time, as there is no record of any official keeping tab on the expert.

Hodgkinson included the statement that he had completed his labor and found that everything in the city finances checked up dollar for dollar. The Auditor has formerly protested the report saying that he asked for an experting of every department in the city and that all the report shows is that Hodgkinson carefully checked over the warrants issued by the Auditor and paid by the Treasurer, and that there is no evidence either the books of the water department, Board of Public Works and Police Department were ever examined by the expert.

It is asserted that the Board of Public Works, which expends annually over $1,000,000, keeps no books other than a cash book showing the amount deposited with that body for use in street work and as bonds for performance of certain duties by corporations and individuals. It is likely that the Council will be asked to provide for a real experting of every department of the city.

FIRE CHIEFS VISIT.
Ninety delegates to the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs Association in Los Angeles visited Long Beach today, coming in special cars. They were met at the station by Chief Shaver, Assistant Chief Crow, Commissioner Williams and Councilman Pearce, and escorted to the outer wharf, where they boarded the launch Neila for a trip through the Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors.

Luncheon was served at Hotel Virginia, and at 2:30 o'clock the visitors were given an exhibition of the Robinson pumping engine, the Seagrave motor truck and a three big pieces of motor apparatus of the local department. Following this the visitors inspected the Crane plant, and then spent an hour on the Pike, leaving in the evening for Cam Verdugo for dinner.

INSPECTS SUBMARINE.
Capt. Charles Fremont Pond, commandant of the Twelfth Naval District, with headquarters at San Francisco, was in the city today under orders of the government to inspect the boat and plans for the submarine, now nearing completion in the inner harbor, preliminary to the visit of the Japanese fleet. Last night at Hotel Virginia Capt. Pond and wife were entertained at dinner by E. E. Eaton and wife, whom Capt. Pond saved two years ago off the Island of Oahu after the boatman had been washed overboard and drowned during a storm and the boat had drifted two miles from the shore.

For this service Capt. Pond was voted a medal, and the Eatons gave him a silver tablet. He left at noon for Riverside for a short visit before returning to San Francisco.

SALT WATER SYSTEM.
Profiting by the Ocean Park fire last week and impressed with the necessity of perfect fire protection for the ocean front and business district of Long Beach, Council last night authorized the Fire Chief and City Engineer to have plans and specifications prepared for a high pressure salt water system, the cost of such a system to be paid by a district to be created under the provisions of the ten-year bond act.

The proposed system, according to tentative plans, will consist of a suction pipe laid into the ocean along the beach, connected with a pump on the shore, the cost to be about $8000. This could be leased if the city could arrange for the lease of the bathhouse salt water pipe line and power plant, thus allowing more money for the piping necessary to cover the entire business district.

COUNTY CONVENTION.
To guard against the possibility of stormy weather, which would make the journey to the outer wharf an annoyance, and because the sun parlor is not thought to be suitable for the occasion, the local managers in charge of the County Convention here next Saturday have changed the meeting place to the Majestic parlor on the Pike and last night secured the use of 1000 chairs from the Auditorium. An application to the Council for the use of the Majestic parlor was refused, the G.A.R. and Iowa picnic having antedated the picnic.

INITIATIVE ELECTION.
City Clerk Riley has filed a certificate with the petitions presented to the Council asking that an initiative election be called to vote on an amendment to the present liquor ordinance. The petition contained the names of 2000 qualified voters, or about 100 more than the 1900 City Attorney was instructed to prepare the ordinance calling an election on the question October 25. Clerk Riley also found that the total registration of Long Beach is 9171.

BEACH BRIEFS.
In line with a spreading "social center" idea the Board of Education has decided that for all matters which will contribute to the welfare or uplift of the community the use of the public school buildings shall be given without charge for lighting. Free janitor service was also suggested, but it was decided that for the present societies or persons wishing to use the buildings must pay $1 for opening and closing them. The action followed a suggestion by Superintendent Stephens that the school buildings be opened and closed by the janitors, who are in use, but a few hours each day, and are easily available for public gatherings.

Officers of the Long Beach Steamship Company today announced that the stock in their corporation, $100,000, had been oversubscribed. The big steamship now building for the company at the Crane plant will be ready for launching early in October and for service November 15.

At a meeting of the Board of Education last night Mrs. Belle Torbet was elected manager of the High School cafeteria at a salary of $75 a month. New teachers elected were Elvora Doolittle, Claudia Thompson, Nels Hill, and George J. Blake.

Gene E. Russell, aged 21, and Miss May Shirley, aged 20, both of Los Angeles, were united in marriage today by Judge Hare, the court making the trip because the judge is an old-time friend. He will be honor guest at a wedding luncheon in Los Angeles Sunday.

Next Sunday the local Japanese society will hold a memorial service for the late Mikado and the use of the municipal band for the service has been tendered by the City Council.

HIS LEG IS AMPUTATED.
Hotel Man Trims a Corn and Gangrene Sets in. Electricity Severely Burns Man's Hand.

POMONA, Sept. 11.—Because of a gangrenous condition of his right foot and leg, it was necessary to take John M. Fuqua, who for years has been proprietor of the Weston House, to the Pomona Hospital. The leg was amputated above the knee yesterday afternoon by Dr. Garcelon and Ulliot.

A short time ago, Fuqua trimmed a nail and corn on his toe, too closely, and caught cold while serving on the primary election board at the Armory. The foot became infected and gangrene resulted, poisoning the leg so that amputation was necessary to save the sufferer's life. Fuqua is 58 years old, and a pioneer in Pomona Valley.

SHOCKED OFF HIS BOX.
While working in a pumping plant near Chino yesterday, James London, an employee of the Southern California Edison Company, here, had a current of 10,000 volts of electricity pass through his hand which was severely burned. The shock caused London to fall heavily from a soap box upon which he was standing, and two of his ribs were broken. London's injuries, while painful, are not serious, and he will be able to take up his work as soon as the ribs knit.

The deceased was 44 years old and had lived here for eight years. Most of the members of Vicksburg Post, G.A.R., and the local W.R.C. went to Los Angeles today to participate in the big parade of the organizations. Some of the members are passing the entire week in Los Angeles.

Prof. George Gale Hitchcock, for years head of the department of physics at Pomona College, has been granted a year's leave of absence from his work at the college, and has left for Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., where he will pass the next few months in special work in physics.

Miss Cella H. Hewitt has returned from a six week stay at Monterey and Carmel-by-the-Sea, where she has been painting a number of marine and sea coast studies.

BRINGS NORTHERN NEWS.
Report City Says Alaskan Waters Are Bare of Sealers Since New Treaty Went Into Effect.

SAN PEDRO, Sept. 11.—The British steamer Rupert City, Capt. Boyd, arrived this morning from Unalakleet, via Victoria, B. C., and San Francisco, carrying 1000 tons of fertilizer loaded at the Sechart wharf station in Barkley Sound connected to the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company. She discharged 500 tons of paper at San Francisco, loaded at the pulp mills on Powell River.

News was brought down by the Rupert City that the Japanese sailing schooner, seized for poaching off the Pribilof Islands, last season, the final year of the pelagic sealers, is to be returned to the owners in Japan by the United States government.

Word reached the officials at Dutch Harbor shortly before the Prince Rupert left, that following the enactment of the treaty for the suspension of pelagic sealers, the government had decided not to proceed for the confiscation of the Japanese vessel, and it was placed in charge of a government wharman to be kept until such time as the owners arrive with a crew from Japan to sail the vessel home.

Now that pelagic sealing is no longer permitted no schooners are to be seen in the northern waters, although a patrol is maintained to guard against the possibility of poaching vessels.

The Rupert City spoke several United States revenue cutters engaged in the northern patrol, including the Manning, McCulloch, Thetis and Tahoma. The Manning received rushing orders to proceed to Seattle. The Thetis and McCulloch were in port at Dutch Harbor when the Rupert City left, and the Tahoma had just started on a patrol cruise.

The Prince Rupert cargo of cement for the northbound voyage.

Windsor Square
The Superlative Degree in Wilshire Development

IT IS DIFFICULT to prefer any feature of special excellence, where all are so obviously supreme.

Windsor Square represents the climax of desirability, in a precinct destined to become the Riviera of America, the Wilshire Boulevard section.

The charm of approach along this palatial thoroughfare may well be advanced as among its most valuable permanent assets.

Its location, on stately boulevards, close to the Country Club, on the way to the ocean, and within twenty minutes, leisurely auto travel from the heart of the city, is another feature none the less important.

Its charming situation on a mesa, surveying a scene of rare residential beauty, and commanding an uplifting mountain view, is also an asset of supreme interest.

The public improvements are of an unusual quality, in keeping with the exclusive character of the neighborhood. All wires are buried. All pipes are laid and connected prior to parking and grading. Nothing unsightly obstructs the view or offends the eye.

As a triumph of subdivisional and landscape engineering it stands entirely alone.

As a residential place, restricted, and exclusive, it appeals to the most refined taste.

Detailed information on request, at either office.

NOT IN NEED: FORGERS.
Young Woman, Contrite, Tearfully Admits Having Written Former Employer's Name to Check.

Helen Bordeaux, arraigned yesterday before Justice Reeve on a charge of forgery, confessed her guilt last evening, according to Manager Russell of the Burns agency, who arrested her last Tuesday night at the Garfield Apartments, Alhambra.

She is charged with having forged a check for $12 on the Traders' National Bank, to which the name of her former employer, the Berry Growers Co-operative Association is signed. Justice Reeve fixed her examination for Tuesday and in default of $2000 bond she was remanded to the County Jail.

"I don't know why I did it," said Miss Bordeaux last night in a flood of tears. "I never did such a thing before, and I didn't need the money. There aren't any other checks out; this is the only one I ever forged." According to Russell, the method pursued by the woman was interesting and ingenious. She substituted checks from the firm's files, Russell declares, and in her forgery duplicated the number of a check thus taken. When returned by the bank, it took the place of the other, and the supposition was that the substitution would pass unnoticed.

Miss Bordeaux's attorney intimated last night that she will plead guilty and ask probation.

FROWNS ON FILIBUSTERS.
Government Takes Prompt Action Against Men Captured at El Cajon With Arms and Ammunition.

Quick action is expected of the Federal grand jury having in charge the investigation of the charges against A. Johnson, Ed. Rooney, Sam Rosenberg, Peter Shea, Robert Ray, H. Gorley and Leonard Vann, captured at El Cajon about two weeks ago, loaded with arms and ammunition and supposed to be en route to Mexico, where it is thought they expected to join Gen. De La Toba.

The investigation was begun Tuesday, and Assistant United States District Attorney Robinson said yesterday he hopes to have an indictment involving the defendants voted on by the grand jury tomorrow.

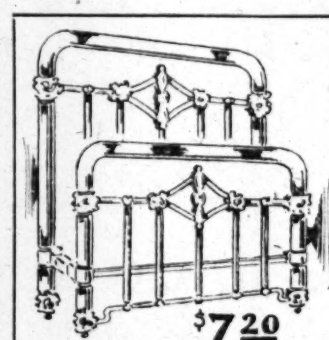

The men are accused of having violated the joint resolution of Congress, grown the executive order of President Taft on March 14 last, against any person carrying arms or munitions of war into the territory of a country with which the United States is at peace.

According to Robinson the evidence is convincing. Much of it is said to be furnished by the chauffeur who drove the machine containing the defendants and their arms, the latter consisting of five Springfield rifles, 800 rounds of ammunition, and six dynamite bombs.

RETURNS FROM EUROPE.
"Uncle Billy" Workman, Born in Missouri, Had to Be Shown—He's Mighty Glad He Went.
William H. Workman, Sr., our familiar "Uncle Billy," arrived home from Europe last night, exactly twelve days from Paris. He was accompanied by his wife and his daughter, Mary, and after having passed a little more than three months on the trip, returned without the slightest mishap and in the best of health. Mr. Workman is 74 years of age, looks about 64, has lived in Los Angeles sixty years, and, taking his own word for it, has been talking about this trip to Europe for fifty years. He was born in Missouri, hence had to be "shown," and it was for the purpose of looking upon the home of his ancestors in Westmoreland, in the north of England, that he ventured across the Atlantic.

"It was the most gratifying thing in my whole life," he said last night again and again. "I went through the house built by my ancestors 250 years ago, and in which my father was born. It is built of stone and is in a splendid state of preservation and is good for 350 years more. I picked apples from the trees which were grown from seeds sent from America by my father in 1819; I sat in the pew in the little chapel in which my ancestors sat, and worshipped the same God and the same chapel; visited their graves in the cemetery and found the grave of Thomas Workman, who died in 1863, and I have in my house a piece of the ancestral silver bearing date that year."

Battles in Trade Day Gorgeous Climax to Encampment

THE CAMP-FIRE.
GOOD SHORT WAR STORIES.
Compiled from Visiting Veterans from the National Tribune Through the Courtesy of Gen. John McElroy and from Local Sources.

A little incident from the life of Lincoln was related yesterday evening at the Occidental Hotel by Col. J. L. Shook of the One Hundred and Twenty-third Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, who, with Col. Boardman, was the center of interest throughout the evening on account of the many war stories they had to tell.

"We were on our way to Antietam and had arrived in Washington," said Col. Shook. "Our beds on the night we arrived in the capital were cellar doors, porches, vacant fields and any place a man could stretch out on after a hard march. The following morning a group of us were gathered in a large corner lot on Pacific avenue. We were singing and fooling over our breakfast fires when the word passed along that President Lincoln was coming down the avenue with his staff.

"The entire gathering forgot breakfast, coffee, bacon and beans, and rushed to the street. The falling of some of the accoutrements, accompanied by the cheer that went up, caused Lincoln's horse to bolt forward suddenly. It threw off his tail silk hat and kept on its way, plunging with every stride. Several of the staff officers gave pursuit, and, overtaking the big animal that the President rode, turned in on it and grasped the reins, bringing the beast to a halt.

"Little ruffled by the event, which had caused a scare in our hearts, we all waited for what we feared might be a reprimand, when the President stopped abreast of us and saluted. He spoke to us for several minutes, encouraging us, and then rode on with stately dignity, and carrying with him our intense love for the democracy he had just shown."

When a small force of southern soldiers and a few soldiers smuggled their way through northern lines and gained the mouth of the Rappahannock River in August, 1863, they found the officers and men of two vessels asleep at their posts, and it was only a few minutes of quiet work to capture the vessels and make prisoners of all on board, taking them all with the exception of one man to Libby Prison.

Surgeon-General John D. Hanchan, then a medical officer, was in that party, and he would have gone with the rest, had it not been discovered that he was fitted to take care of not only the soldiers of the South, but also his own wounded comrades, who were held as hostages.

"At that time the South was in dire need of skilled surgeons," he said, "and I was requested to go over to Belle Island and attend the Union prisoners there. At first I construed this as favoring the South, but, after discussing it with my friends, they decided for me that I could do good by the cause by looking after the wounded."

"For six weeks I attended the wounded, not only of the North, but also those of the South, and I was usually under great disadvantages, owing to the lack of surgical supplies and bandages. At the end of that time for my special work I was paroled. I am an northern man who will always speak well of the treatment accorded me while a prisoner. Every consideration and courtesy was shown me, and I made friends among the Confederate officers and soldiers who, to this day, remember me and write occasional letters recalling old events."

In the trenches at Petersburg an Irishman had a clock that he had captured at the Rebel Farm fight, and was asked how it ran.

"Pointe, folsie," he answered. "Phin the big hand points 't six an' th' little hand 't six an' it strikes folsie, thin it's half past six."

Soon after the organization of Co. C, Thirty-second Illinois, a lively fist fight took place. When the comrades had separated the combatants one of them was heard to say:

"Two of ye hold him; one can hold me." (George Cowell, Carlinville, Ill.)

A recruit practicing had the misfortune to part company with his horse when he was in the line. A comrade asked:

"Did you receive orders to dismount?"

"I did, sor, from hindquarters, sor," said Pat, with a forced grin.

Early in 1862, while the Sixth Ohio Cavalry was at Camp Dennison, Cincinnati, the boys got passes to go outside the line. Two boys of Co. K came back with some whisky, and the captain heard of it. He approached one of them and said:

"Let me have that bottle you have."

The trooper quickly pulled out the cork, and, swallowing the contents, quickly handed it over, and said in a polite manner:

"Sumner Stoughton, Bugler, Co. K, Sixth Ohio Cavalry, Windsor, O."

A soldier was dreadfully wounded in battle, and as he lay on the ground a wounded comrade near him kept up a continual howling from pain.

"Phwat 't divil air yer yellin' looks that for?" said he. "I've think nobody's killt but yerself."

The drill sergeant was getting hoarse under a set as ever drove a train of recruits. Order after order was bawled, but the recruits were obeyed wrongly. "Right turn!" he yelled. There was a swaying, hesitating movement. One man didn't know which way to turn, so he stood still.

"Why don't you listen? What are you ears for?" yelled the sergeant. "My ears? Oh, them is ter keep my hat on with."

A wag from Ohio in Sherman's army, whom everybody called "Bully Boy," had been in the army months before writing to his friends. Several days after the taking of Atlanta a letter came to them which read:

"Atlanta.

"Bully Boy all right."

In due time Sherman's army marched from Atlanta to Savannah. His friends read in the papers that the company to which he belonged was in that city. With anxiety they waited for news from him. Then came a note:

"Savannah.

"Bully Boy got a hole in his hide—not bad."

Sherman's men finally reached Washington, and the company to which "Bully Boy" belonged was mustered out. When he was paid off and had got as far as Columbus he sent a telegram:

"Columbus.

"Bully Boy home tomorrow."

When asked by a friend why the infrequency and brevity of his epistles he answered:

"I just wanted to keep it all, so I would have something to tell you this winter."

Slaking a comrade's thirst.

He "Marched" Anyway.
An artilleryman of the Department of War, who likewise participated in the parade in New York, Indiana's A. W. Ramsey, H. W. Ramsey, F. Fendervia, color-bearer, interesting figure in the parade, was Abraham Lincoln's Chief of Staff, so striking that even the children in the crowd immediately noticed it, and joined in the parade.

TWENTY BANDS STIR PATRIOTIC HEARTS.

Much Music.
The stirring music of the parade of 478 musicians, divided into twenty bands, which ranged in pieces from a single cornet, and in ages of players from veterans of the Civil War to boys in their first decade.

The most impressive effects were noticeable in the march of Cook's Drum Corps and band of eighty men in the form of a cross, playing "Onward Christian Soldiers," and the contrast of the sweet-toned cornet of a single colored musician, who led the Louisiana and Mississippi posts, sounding the plaintive cadences of "My Old Kentucky Home." The Stanislaw Boys' Band and the Rosecrans Drum Corps, both composed of young boys, made pretty pictures in their handsome uniforms, and gave surprisingly good account of themselves in their music. When the greater Los Angeles band paused under the shimmering electric flag near the reviewing stand and rendered

NOTES OF THE PARADE.
Words of Pathos From One Unable to Stand Long March—Some Notable Rhetoric Carried on the Route.

"It's hard, mighty hard, to drop out of the line before the march is fairly begun," said Judge M. H. Donohoe, an aged Illinois veteran, as he left the Grand Army ranks at Fourth and Spring streets yesterday. "A few years ago we would have scorned to be behind our comrades, but the physical strength is lacking now, where the courage and the will is strong as ever."

"This is a veteran of many a battle," called Capt. Frederick J. Cressey of Stanton Post, as he waved above his head the naked sword he had carried through the war.

"This old canteen has seen more service than any veteran in the line," shouted James Long, a Minnesota veteran, as he passed the battered relic to thirty comrades.

Among the unique historic badges worn in the parade was that of H. A. Mann of this city, who marched with the department of Illinois. He was one of the guards of honor at the funeral of Lincoln, and afterwards formed an association known as "Lincoln's Body Guard." He wore his yellow badge, trimmed in gold lace yesterday.

BRILLIANT RECEPTION.
All Patriotic Organizations Attend Affair Given by W.R.C. to Honor Commander-in-Chief.

The corridors of the Hotel Alexandria were thronged last night from 8:30 o'clock until the receiving line broke up after 10 o'clock at the Woman's Relief Corps reception to the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army and his staff. All the patriotic organizations attended and it was a brilliant affair.

The Sons of Veterans acted as a bodyguard and kept the lines unbroken for hours.

The presentations were made by Mrs. Florence O. McClelland, National Chief-of-Staff, ably assisted by her national aide. Representatives from all the States attended the reception.

The Character of its Loans is said to constitute the strength or weakness of any bank.

This is largely true, because it is only by loaning its Depositors' money to advantage that Banks can continue to do business. And you must see how vital it is that every loan should have ample security behind it.

Although the State Banking Law permits this Institution to loan money on approved Collateral, the greater part of the Sixteen Million Dollars it has under loan is represented by first mortgages upon Real Estate. Indeed, upon such securities the bulk of its loaning has been done for the past Twenty-two Years.

You can judge with what care loans have been negotiated from the fact that this Bank has no Real Estate, or any securities whatever, which it has been obliged to take under foreclosure.

Such a condition is positive proof of the wisdom of our conservative loaning policy.

When we loan money on a piece of Real Estate, we seldom offer more than forty per cent of our appraised value of the property—and our expert appraisement is always most conservative. This means that practically every property upon which we loan money is worth two and one half times the amount of our loan.

Furthermore, we always favor loaning relatively small sums—not desiring to loan tremendous amounts on single properties; but rather to loan small amounts upon homes or for the building of homes.

This means that we have a great number of small loans, amply secured, placing us in a much more secure position than as if we had many thousands in a loan against a single property.

We mention these details because the money loaned is not our own, but the MONEY OF DEPOSITORS; and so that you can see for yourself with what unusual precaution, and upon what a conservative basis, we handle it.

We especially invite the deposits of thinking people—of those who are building up a competency through saving and self-denial—who know the value of money and appreciate SAFETY.

Accounts opened at Four and at Three Per Cent interest, the latter with checking privileges under moderate restrictions. Money loaned on Collateral and on approved Real Estate. Trusts executed. Superior Safe Deposit Facilities. Around-the-World and other interesting Tours arranged by our Steamship Department.

CHEERS LINES OF BLUE.

which would have held even a turbulent crowd in check.

The Chief of Police, with the several hundred men under his command, declared at the close of the parade that it was one of the easiest and nicest crowds to handle that he has ever taken care of. He had taken every precaution to safeguard the public from pickpockets and other thieves.

GATHERING EARLY.
The crowds began gathering early. Women and children, who knew that they would have to literally fight their way to vantage points along the line of march, began taking their places on Spring and Broadway long before 9 o'clock in the morning. They waited patiently for hours for the veterans to pass, and showed appreciation by cheering and waving flags.

Boys did a great business in selling soap boxes and other things which afforded seats and standing places for the women. Some of these youthful representatives of the enterprise of Southern California, went home with their trousers pockets filled with nickels and dimes gathered from the crowd. Women, growing tired of standing, would offer 25, 30, 40, 50 cents for one of these box seats. Sometimes the barefooted vendors held out for a big price, but they were generally reasonable.

There were thousands in the throngs of spectators who had no father or brother in the parade, but there was hardly a one but could have said:

"My father, or Uncle William or Uncle Samuel were alive he would have been here and walking proudly alongside of the veterans. Men were his camp-fellows back in '61."

When the last detachment of the parade had passed and the veterans were returning to their headquarters, the few miles that not many years ago would have been regarded by them as nothing more than a pleasure jaunt, the general expression was:

"Well, we have given Los Angeles a good return for the generous and helpful hand that has been extended to us during our stay in the city."

RUNAWAY IN CROWD.
As a team of frightened horses attached to a Broadway department store delivery wagon was about to dash into a dense crowd of men, women and children at Fifth and Broadway at noon, it was stopped by Crossing Officer Rogers. When those on Broadway saw the team racing by they became panic-stricken. Women screamed and children cried, scattering in every direction. Men added to the din and confusion by yelling warnings.

At the moment the horses collided with an auto. There was a crash that was heard a block. The animals were thrown off their feet. When they had regained their footing and were about to continue their wild race Rogers grabbed the near horse by the bit, and jerked him to the left. The horse slipped and went to his knees. He dragged the second horse with him. The latter fell against the first one, which rolled over on the officer, who had in the meantime been thrown.

A hundred men rushed to his assistance. While a number held the horses down that the harness might be removed, others lifted the officer up. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital with several bones in his right hand broken. He is at his home, No. 284 Vermont avenue. A few weeks ago Officer Rogers's name was broken in a runaway accident.

Women heroes who paraded yesterday—the army nurses.

SEALS MAKE GOOD AS PENNANT HOPE BLASTERS.

Bill Reidy's Buccaneers Select Sixth Inning as Most Opportune Time to Blow Tigers Sky High and Make a Fine Job of It—Hap Paved but Defeats of Angels and Oaks Console Him.

BY HARRY WILLIAMS.

BILL REIDY'S buccaneers, as fine a bunch of baseball cutthroats as ever scuttled the fond hopes of a pennant contender, tied a 6 to 3 knot in the collective tail of the Vernon Tigers yesterday.

Reidy's people are no respecters of persons, despite the fact that "Soldier" Carson thinks that they regard him as their particular T-bone. Themselves absolutely devoid of hope, Reidy's rioters delight in devastating, blighting, shattering and dissipating the hopes of others. Show the Seals a good, healthy hope and they are instantly fired with an unquenchable ambition to blast it. As blasters they are a success. In fact, they are about the best blasters that we ever saw.

Yesterday they didn't start to blast until the sixth inning. When they began blasting, Hogan's men were patiently plodding along on the front end of a 3 to 1 score. When they quit blasting the Tigers were still plodding, but they were so far in the rear that their friends did not get another good look at them. The Seals sailed in to "Soldier" Carson in a way to remind that militant young man of the days when he was sidestepping real bullets in the Philippines at $1 a month.

Six hits, three doubles and three singles, splashed a spectacular shower of four tallies over the plate, sent Carson scurrying to cover and put the Seals so far in front that the Tigers never caught a fleeting glimpse of them.

"Dolly" Gray drew the relief assignment and spiked the guns of the enemy after Berry had singled McArdle home from second. Said spiking was useless, as "Pop" Arlett, headless but capable and ambitious, allowed but two hits in the subsequent proceedings.

Believing that the moral effect of an early start is considerable, the Seals etched an ace on the scoreboard in the very first inning. With Wuffli down in the very infancy of the game on a grounder to Litschi, Wagner whaled the ball safely to center and thieved second. Del Howard's demise placed Wagner at third and Zimmerman chased him into the home depot with a shot to center. Zim also tried to loot second, but couldn't. The Tigers purred their way softly through the first inning. Carson was as docile as house cats. But in the second they began to show their stripes. Roy Brasher lead off with a roaring drive, the ball kicking up a spit of dust just inside the left field line and skipping on to the fence for two bases. "Kitty" Brasher, his brother nailed at third, McArdle to Wuffli. Litschi fully made up for the delinquencies of his mate with a double to left. "Kitty" almost ran himself to death, but didn't quit until he had scored on the drive. Hoop fouled to Berry. Carson was winded, but still in possession of his health, hammered to center, scoring Litschi. Carson then did something that he probably never did before in his life. He broke his own record with a drive that chased Del Howard almost to the fence. Brown ran around to third and stopped. Carson did not stop until he had caught up with Brown. The coacher at first told Carson to run. The "soldier" has a habit of obeying instructions. The fact that Brown was on third made not the slightest difference to Carson. He had been told to run, and he was going to run regardless of all the Browns in the world. McArdle, who took Howard's throw, was puzzled when he turned around and found Brown and Carson in a shivering group on third base. It reminded him of two shipwrecked sailors clinging to a slippery rock with the tide rising. McArdle went over to find what it all meant. Carson was winded. He couldn't have been pried off that base with a crowbar. Seeing this, Brown surrendered his right to stay. He started for the plate. But he didn't get very far, McArdle trailing him a short distance and then throwing to Berry for a tame put-out. The Tigers fattened their lead slightly in the fifth, and they didn't have to resort to their bats in order to turn the trick. Arlett walked. Carson. Imagine doing anything like that! At no other time was Arlett wasted as a result of the defeat of Norman Macbeth at the hands of Vincent Whitney by a score of 5 up and 4 to play. From the very outset there was never any doubt about the result, as Whitney played like a champion and Macbeth rambled all over the course. Another semi-surprise recorded in the first round was the victory of Chapin Tubbs over his clubmate, Robin Hayne, but this contest was of an entirely different nature, going to the twentieth hole before a decision was reached.

SHUTT IS GOING BACK TO POMONA.

Vincent Shutt will be back at Pomona again this year, according to Manager Kim Jones. Shutt has played his four years and will not be allowed to compete against Occidental. If the conference gets together, he will be allowed to appear in the game with Colorado School of Mines and other big games in which the Blue and White mixes.

Coach Stanton will be assisted by Shutt with the squad and the former Pomona captain will also devote a part of his time to Ontario High School's football interests.

WEDDING BELLS FOR JOE RIVERS.

"Splash Me" Girl Says She Will Be Bride.

Joe Freezingly Contradicts the Actress.

Lady Finally Takes Back the Story.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jimmy Coffroth has decided to offer Joe Rivers a fight in October with Frankie Burns in San Francisco.

If Coffroth is successful in making this match, he will try to bind Ad Wolgast for a fight with the winner.

Although it was never considered likely that Rivers would fight outside of Los Angeles, Coffroth claims to have received word from Joe Levy that the Mexican would consider such a match.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

Joe Rivers is filled with alarm over the evident determination of a fascinating young actress to drag him to the altar.

Smiling down from the top of a big mission table in the Mission Apartments, where she has lived for the past few months, Francis White, the vaudeville singer, announced to a small party of friends last night that she was to marry Joe Rivers at 9 o'clock this morning.

Anyone could have told that Rivers was a heavy favorite with the diminutive actress. There were just twenty-one pictures of the Mexican fighter on the walls. Four large photographs of the favorite graced little Francis's dresser, and the walls, curtains and edges of mirrors were plastered with long strips cut from "pink sheets," carrying Joe's name in the headlines.

Rivers was not there, but he called on the phone and Francis was happy. At least she acted that way. She played that favorite of Joe's, "Me in the Shadows," and sang. Her big diamond, the one the fighting lover had given her, flashed over the keys. Dainty strings from a cute kemono fluttered in the electric-fan-made breeze.

When more visitors came in, the music stopped and diminutive actress, big diamond, kimono strings and silk, then hoisted the top of the big table in the center of the room.

THE BLUSHING BRIDE.

When asked if she was to marry Rivers Francis at first only smiled and waved a bare arm in a circle over her head. In an attempt to point to her collection of photos, "Well," she said with a sigh, "how does it look from the front row?"

At this point a friend in a pretty purple gown, who was in the room, came to the front and offered to tell all she knew. If Francis would not tell the girls and the boys too, what was on for tomorrow?

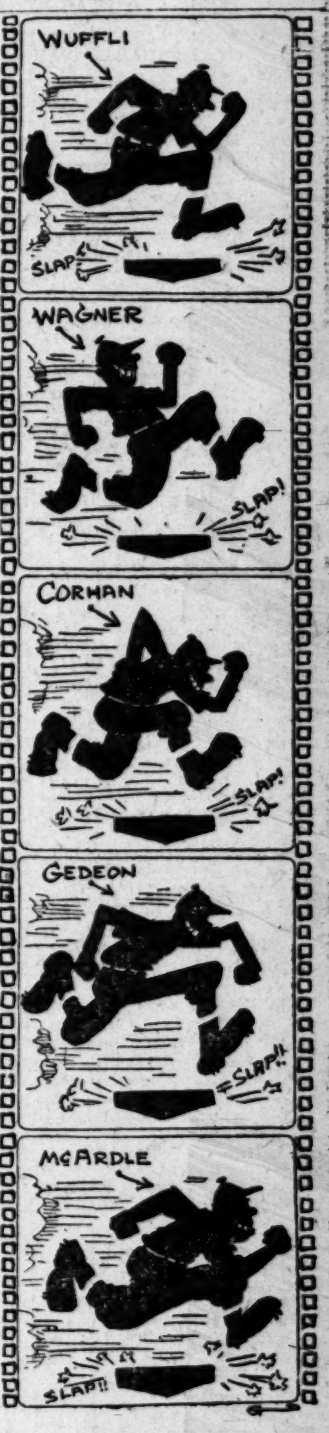

"Well," began Miss White again, she left out the high time, "I'll tell a little. Now pardon my looks."

bunch, I didn't expect Joe up tonight, so I didn't dress."

"So we noticed," said the pretty girl in purple.

"Well," began Francis for the third time, "Joe Rivers did not go to San Francisco tonight, but he will go north on the Owl tomorrow night and I am going with him." One of the visitors tried to look shocked, but little Francis came to the rescue, and with one of her old time "Splash Me Girl" smiles, and a toss of the head, said, "But of course we will be married."

That was what the crowd wanted to know. "Tell them when it will be," said the purple-gowned person.

"At 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in this room, by a priest. We are both Catholics, you know—and then to France."

(ACRAHOTE, Sept. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fifteen hundred hearts jumped up in to 1500 ouths in the eighth inning this afternoon when Heinie Heitmueller sent ball crashing down the third base line at Harold Ireland and Daley started to tear for home with a run which would have tied the score and given the Angels a new chance to go ahead and climb into the top berth of the Coast League Fullman. But the drive hit the glove and could not hold it and for five minutes one could have heard a pin drop while he dove after the horsehide, recovering it in time to peg Heitmueller out at first. Fifteen hundred hearts again jumped up in to 1500 ouths for Ireland's quick recovery. He hit for a double and Ireland's sacrifice bunt for a 5 to 4 victory over Pop Dillon's boys and chalked a win for the first time since the 1907 season.

second in the third frame, and was the first Dillonite to find his way to the first. Boles followed with another single to center; Laverena fanned; Ireland, the first to bat, fanned; to Ireland, the bags were crammed, with one down. Berger rolled an easy grounder to first, which should have resulted in an easy double play, but Patsy let the ball roll through him, and Lober scored. Daley fanned, Ireland fanned, and the score was Boles and Howard and the score was tied at 3 all.

Not till the sixth did the Angels get a run. With one down Daley dropped a single into short left. Heitmueller followed with a single to right, and Ireland followed with a single to center. Orr was up in the air to get his bounce to force Heinie at second. Orr relay to first to complete a double play. Ireland fanned, and the score was Dillon safe at the first cushion and Daley raced home from second

Judge" Munsell. L

For Judge Munsell had put up the most creditable exhibition, this season by a Sacramento pitcher. He pitched three innings could the Angels get men on base, and had it not been for O'Rourke's error and Heister's error of judgment, Munsell would have walked away with a shut-out victory over the boys who are the league two.

Never did a pitcher show better control than Munsell for nine innings today. Not a Los Angeles batter walked a base, not a Los Angeles had hopes of drawing a walk, and Munsell never went so far as to allow any batter to get three called strikes. He pitched a perfect game.

Diney's pitcher came back with 4 outs, but the game came back with the run which put them ahead in the last of the sixth.

BEAVERS MAKE OAKS
LOOK LIKE CHAP TEAM

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 11.—[Special Dispatch.] Oaked never had a chance to beat Portland this afternoon. Those Beavers were full of might and they handed everything they had to the Commuters.

It did not look one bit like the aggregation of oar boats that was the crowd from over the top put the roller under the day before. Cy Parkin did not have a thing that tended to worry those Portlanders.

Parkin pretty hard in the second at eight frames, but fast work by Oakland laid out tallies which looked as good as in. The Beavers should have had a dozen points.

Butcher lined the ball down to short and beat it out. Doane started one to first, but he was too late. The runner stepped over to second, forcing Butcher. He had a grand chance to double Doane up at first, but he pegged the ball into the outfield.

Doane and the Beavers had three tallies to their credit. For the next few innings Parkin managed to get by fairly well. In fact, he was feeling that the Oakland rooters had hopes that he would blank the Beavers.

FROM THE MASON TO THE MAJESTIC

By JULIAN JOHNSON

Back to the old, ever-delightful subject of the marriage of J. Hartley Manners and Laurette Taylor.

—Miss Taylor has returned from San Francisco, and is ensconced in a blue apartment on the sixth floor of the Alexandria. Mr. Manners is also at the Alexandria, but quite lonely, some little distance away from the blue apartment. The condition of single misery nigh holds.

"When?" I asked Miss Taylor.

"When we get time," she responded cheerfully. "I've made up my mind not to marry while I'm working. I feel even more pronouncedly that than I do."

"I don't want to spend my honeymoon waiting at the stage door for you every night," he says, and I don't blame him.

So I asked if they would marry here, or in the East.

"Even that I don't know," she responded, "but after my short return engagement at the Burbank closes, I will have quite a long time idle. Perhaps 'Peg' will not open in New York until Christmas Eve. And our marriage may take place then."

"A trip to England, perhaps?"

"Not now. You know, I've never been across, and I'm not going when I have to hurry. I want time. I want months. And I suppose Hartley would Charley Eytton is getting tired of widowhood. Reelie Eytton, the Scarlet Elphberg, is herding for the Selig motion picture company, up in Pine Knot, a mountain resort whose nearest civilization is Redlands, thirty miles distant.

Moroso, on his Columbus-like voyage from Chicago to New York, at the wheel of his own motor car, is supposed to have trundled down past Columbus Circle and into the Hotel Astor's garage yesterday afternoon.

His visit in the metropolis will not be long, on this particular occasion.

Dick Bennett, they tell me, wants to go into vaudeville.

With the right kind of sketch Richard could make one of the liveliest twenty minutes that vaudeville patrons ever saw.

I understand that final papers are about to be signed with Frank Egan on the local "Little Theater" scheme, and that a splendid building costing $50,000, is to be erected.

Paul Armstrong's "Romance of the Underworld," enlarged recant the vaudeville sketch seen last season at the Orpheum, is to be a very early autumn attraction at the Hamburger Majestic Theater, with Holbrook Bilan and most of the New York cast.

but made a magnificent recovery, which was not, however, attended with the best of luck, as the ball rolled into the far edge of the pit and he lost the hole to 5, thus turning the corner 3 down.

Both players made brilliant drives to the front, the next four were short in their second and the tenth was halved in five. The eleventh was also divided in four and four, and the twelfth hole began to look very serious for Macbeth, especially as he was playing below form in an apparently careless manner.

Whitney was short of the bunker going to the twelfth in his second, but his approach hit the pin and the ball nestled close to the hole, while the Los Angeles player took five strokes to hole out after a perfect drive and a good second. This made Whitney 4 up and he had his opponent down 5 when he drove to the next green within twelve feet from the hole. Macbeth was unfortunate in his drive for the fourteenth as the shot was too perfect, if such an explanation is possible, the ball rolling into a bad lie near the eleventh tee and this gave Whitney an opportunity to halve the hole and accept congratulations.

VERY CLOSE MATCH.

The Hayne-Tubbs match was the closest of the championship flight to date, there never being more than two holes separating the players at any stage, and only one during a brief moment. Neither of them made wonderful medal scores, but there was enough to give them a cement to make up for this deficiency.

During the match "Mr. Stimie" was very busy, as he appeared on the scene on fewer than eight different occasions. Perhaps the most brilliant shot of the match was made on the ninth green, when Tubbs negotiated a dead stytle with a niblick for a win, thus gaining a lead of two holes for the first and only time during the match. He was 1 down and he won the tenth and squared the match at wish to live in London again. They say no one ever really gets over living in London."

After matrimony we fell into a discussion of acting, and by acting came, quite naturally, to actors.

Miss Taylor doesn't believe in the pretty actor, any more than the rest of us.

"Acting per se," she says, "is a lady's trade. Romeo, with his little vanity bag, his bodkin sword and his blue silk tights, is really a sort of old maid. The only men who have any right to be on our modern stage are men who can characterize their roles, in every instance."

Capt. Kettle.

No pirate, nor warrior, but simply Dick Ferris's affectionate name for ferocious-bearded Sedley Brown, off-time stage manager and at present author.

Mr. Ferris has called a rehearsal for Capt. Kettle's baseball play, "The Home Plate," at the Lyceum Theater this morning.

That is, he thinks there will be a rehearsal.

Last night he thought it behooved him to go out and hunt up some actors.

I saw him at 9 o'clock, energetically megaphoning up and down the Rialto for a company.

I am perfectly certain that he drummed one up.

I never saw Dick Ferris yet miss fire on anything he determined to do.

Florence Stone, I'm sorry to say, will not be able to appear in this or any other play for quite a number of weeks to come. The attack of nervous prostration which followed the operation that took her out of the "Fine Feathers" cast—thus depriving her of the great opportunity of a lifetime—still keeps her to her bed, and, though steadily improving, she is far from possessing strength enough to even climb downstairs.

Nat Goodwin, they tell me, is resting comfortably.

The doctors have at last got an X-ray of his pelvis and find that, as suspected, it is broken.

The fracture is, fortunately, not a splintered one, but appears as a clean white line on the plate—like a crack in a china cup.

His physicians tell him that he must remain in bed until this is perfectly knit together, else he may be a physical wreck for life, unable to even walk or stand.

Orrin Johnson has a home butter-milk machine.

"That is, he has it at home, which is New York."

We have had fads of various sorts, but Mr. Johnson's energetic Dr. Wiley campaign for the pure article in gastronomic is not only unsurpassed in modern times, but is, in fact, unequalled.

He is very fond of butter, and, from White Plains, had milk brought every day, which he churned up to get the genuine, nugget-rare butter-milk product. The butter he gave away.

NEW SWIMMING RECORD.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 11.—(Special Dispatch by Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.) With the idea of bettering the swim across the bay, the Dolphin Swimming and Boating Club is arranging an open race for women from San Francisco to Oakland to be contested September 22. A jewelry firm here will give a handsome trophy for the event, which is expected to have from six to ten starters. The cup will be known as the Greater San Francisco Trophy. This race will be open to any woman swimmer and the dolphins are confident that Miss Schmidt's record of three hours and six minutes for her long swim will be broken.

Most of the women cracks brushed by the first round without any trouble, but the most interesting was the day in this event being that between Miss Alice Hager and Mrs. Walter March. The former recovered from her lost game and winning at the twentieth green, Mrs. A. R. Pommer kept up her winning streak by dismissing Mrs. J. R. Clark, but the wide margin between the pair at the finish was a surprise to most of the golf enthusiasts here. Miss Warner had an easy match, as did Miss Cheesbrough, but neither of them contemplate a walk-over tomorrow, when they are slated against each other, and the match should be worth watching.

A north and south four-ball foursome between Jack Neville and Robin Hayne on the one hand, and E. S. Armstrong and Norman Macbeth on the other, resulted in an unexpected runaway for the northerners by 7 up and 6 to play. The best ball of the winning team was 64, a remarkable performance, each of them recording 73 for the eighteen holes.

In her match with Mrs. Julian Thorne, Miss Edith Cheesbrough gave the best exhibition of golf ever seen by a member of the fair sex on the Del Monte links, her card reading 83 for the eighteen holes, going out and home in 41. This beats the existing record by three strokes.

The summaries of today's play follow:

Golf results: Sixth flight for men: P. R. Backus defeated A. M. Lawrence, 1 up on 14th hole; C. F. Royce defeated George Whipple 4 up and 2 to play.
